Subject: Assault on Microsoft

I Microsoft has been a great benefit to me as a user of their products. They produce the best and have made a standard for the industry, if you remember a few years ago when one could spend hours trying to make a new program work. I thing the people bringing charges against Microsoft are fishing for money. The other competitors cannot keep-up and are leaning on the Government to help them compete. It is shame an American Company leading the world get stabbed in the back form it own government. Would everyone be happy if we shipped Microsoft to China? Shame shame shame.
